

OKHUA'E

Basket

Okhua'e (baskets) are traditionally made from natural materials such as reeds, raffia or grass which is either woven or coiled together with twine. Okhua'e were used for storage or to carry objects from one place to another, and may have been used in domestic and commercial contexts.

